GLOBAL MARKETS HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTRALIA: The Australian share market edged higher as weakness among the banks, miners and energy companies was offset by gains by retailers and industrial stocks. The benchmark S&P/ASX200 was up 4.6 points, or 0.08%, at 6,037.1 points.

NEW YORK: US stocks ended with small gains on Wednesday after minutes from the Federal Reserve's latest meeting suggested higher inflation may not result in faster interest rate hikes. The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 52.4 points, or 0.21 per cent, to 24,886.81, the S&P 500 gained 8.85 points, or 0.32%, to 2,733.29 and the Nasdaq Composite added 47.50 points, or 0.64%, to 7,425.96.

LONDON: The UK's top share index was knocked down of its highs on Wednesday and sustained its biggest loss in two months as oil majors and commodity-related stocks fell but well-received results made Marks & Spencer a bright spot. The blue chip FTSE 100 index closed down 1.13% at 7,788.44 points. A surprise fall in British inflation pushed sterling to its lowest level against the dollar this year but failed to provide any tailwind to companies whose revenues are in foreign currencies.

TOKYO: Asian shares were mostly weaker on Wednesday with investors cautious after US President Donald Trump tempered optimism over progress made in trade talks between the world's two largest economic powers. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan was down 0.3 per cent, while Japan's Nikkei lost 1.2% to end at a one-and-a-half-week low and the Shanghai Composite Index retreated 1.4%.
